29th Annual ANZSIL Conference

International Law and Global Inter-connectedness

30th June – 2 July 2022

ANU Canberra and Online

We are looking forward to welcoming you to ANZSIL 2022 in Canberra or virtually on 30th June. Below, we have provided information you need to get the most out of the conference, but please do not hesitate to contact us (anzsil@anu.edu.au) if you have any questions or requests.

Conference Venue

The conference will take place at the JG Crawford Building at the Australian National University, Canberra. The venue is approximately a 16 minute walk from QT Hotel Canberra and a 10 minute walk from Ovolo Nishi Hotel.

Online Participation

Online participation will be facilitated via Zoom through the Whova app. The links to each session are already available on Whova and instructions for the best way of accessing these links will be distributed on Wednesday 29 June. Please note that you will only be able to access Zoom through the Whova app, therefore it is very important that you register on the app if you have not already done so. If you are presenting via Zoom, we request that you log on 10 minutes prior to the start of your panel in order to ensure that any technical difficulties are minimised. We have full external technical support for ANZSIL 2022 so we should be able to assist with any technical difficulties you have.

We encourage you to send any Powerpoint slides you intend to use to us in advance of the conference to anzsil@anu.edu.au.

Structure of Panels

Unless you have been advised otherwise by your Panel Chair or your panel has been pre-arranged around a particular format (such as a facilitated discussion), each speaker(s) must present their paper in no more than 15 minutes. Panel chairs have been asked to adhere strictly to the time limits. Each standard panel provides for 30 minutes of discussion after the (normally) 4 papers have been presented. Most parallel panels are 90 minutes with the exception of panels 4, 5 and 6 (75 minutes) and panels 7, 8 and 9 (105 minutes).

Each panel chair will be supported by a student helper who will assist in monitoring online questions and comments.

Conference Program

The conference program is available on the Whova app for all registered delegates. It is also available as a PDF on the ANZSIL website and includes the abstracts of all panels/ papers and the biographies of speakers and chairs. The timing of all sessions in the PDF programme is AEST. The timing of all sessions on the Whova app should be adapted to your particular time zone.

Using Whova at ANZSIL 2022

We are very excited to welcome delegates to the ANU and are aware that for many of us this is the first 'in person' conference in the last couple of years. However, we encourage all delegates to register with the Whova app and to use that app to network with both in-person and online participants. You are able to connect with specific panel members, send messages to colleagues and share your work. Please note that all updates to the program and communications from the conference organisers will come through the Whova app.

ANZSIL Interest Group Meetings

ANZSIL Interest Group Meetings will take place on Thursday lunchtime (1.15 – 2.15pm) (IPSIG, GSIL, HTIL) and Friday afternoon tea (3pm – 4pm) (OIELIG and IELIG). Interest Group chairs will advise their members as to whether online participation at interest group meetings will be facilitated and, if so, will provide the relevant Zoom link to members.

ANZSIL AGM

The ANZSIL AGM will take place 12.30 – 1.30 on Friday 1 July. Documents associated with the AGM and the relevant Zoom link were distributed by email to ANZSIL members on 26 June.

Conference Dinner

The conference dinner will take place at 7pm on Friday 1st July at Old Parliament House (OPH) in Canberra, the home of the Federal Parliament from 1927 to 1988. The bar will open from 6pm and drinks are not included in the cost of the dinner. It is not possible to register for the dinner after 15 June, but if you have not registered and would like to attend the dinner please email anzsil@anu.edu.au or speak to a member of the conference organising committee at the conference as it is possible that places at the dinner may become available before or during the conference. If you have registered for the dinner but are subsequently not able to attend please email anzsil@anu.edu.au as soon as possible to let us know. If we are able to offer your place to another delegate we will be able to refund the dinner fee.

We are very excited to inform you that the traditional ANZSIL public international law quiz will be running during the dinner!

OPH is approximately a 37 minute walk from Ovolo Nishi Hotel, a 34 minute walk from the QT hotel and a 39 minute walk from the JG Crawford Building.

CIPL 2022 Annual Kirby Lecture in International Law

ANZSIL delegates are most welcome to register for the Annual Kirby Lecture, which, in 2022, will be delivered by Professor Anne Orford, Melbourne Law School, on the topic of Why It's Time to Terminate the TRIPS Agreement. The lecture will take place on Thursday 30th June 6pm – 7pm AEST, Molonglo Theatre, JG Crawford Building, ANU. You can register here.

Sustainability at ANZSIL 2022

Academic conferences typically come with a significant environmental cost. We have made a concerted effort to ensure that ANZSIL is as sustainable as possible without compromising the experience of delegates. We are aware there is more to do in this space.

All food during the conference will be vegetarian or vegan and served on crockery in order to minimise waste and lower our carbon footprint.

ANZSIL 2022 will be plastic free. As a consequence we are not providing normal name badges and we ask delegates to bring their own badges. Recycle a badge from an earlier conference, bring your institutional badge or get creative! We will have sticky (non-plastic) labels for anyone who does not bring a name badge. We are also not providing water bottles so please bring your own bottle to fill up at the venue.

We will not be providing paper copies of the ANZSIL 2022 program at the conference in order to minimise waste. The program is available to download from the ANZSIL website and is also available on the Whova app.

In order to offset some of the CO₂ produced by or associated with ANZSIL 2022 a small proportion of your registration fee will be used to make a donation to Greening Australia. If you are travelling to Canberra by plane we encourage you to think about offsetting your CO₂ emissions. You can do this through Air New Zealand and Qantas as well as most other airlines.

Wifi

Wifi will be available throughout the conference.

COVID-19

We aim to ensure that ANZSIL 2022 is as COVID safe as it can be. The lecture theatres we are using are large and should provide ample room for social distancing. We will be using both floors of the Crawford Building for lunch/ breaks and will be encouraging delegates to spread out.

ANU requires all conference delegates to wear masks during the conference except when speaking on a panel or eating. We are aware that some delegates may have a legitimate exemption to this rule. We will ensure that there are masks available for use by delegates but we encourage you to bring your own.

We encourage delegates to take a Rapid antigen test (RATs) prior to coming to the conference venue.

If you test positive for COVID-19 prior to or during the conference you are not permitted to come to the conference venue or conference dinner. If you develop symptoms prior to or during the conference, irrespective of whether you test positive for COVID-19, you are not permitted to come to the conference venue or conference dinner. All in-person registrants will also have access to the Zoom links so if you are not able to come to the venue but feel well enough you can present your paper and participate online through the Whova app.

We encourage all delegates to familiarise themselves with the COVID-19 rules that currently apply within the ACT. In particular, we note that international travellers entering ACT are encouraged to undergo a RAT test within 24 hours of arrival in Australia. This is in addition to any requirements associated with a traveller's port of exit/ entry.

If you are unlucky enough to test positive for COIVD-19 during the ANZSIL conference please let us know (anzsil@anu.edu.au). We will try to assist you if we can.
